

MRS. HARRISON'S DEATH.

President Harrison's Great Sorrow.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE FUNERAL.

Letters of Condolence from Prominent Men.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The president is bearing up remarkably well under his affliction. Traces of great sorrow are plain; he has nerved himself to face his affliction with fortitude. Those who saw him yesterday found his eyes red with weeping, but he constantly endeavored to repress its influence alone. Such members of the cabinet as were in the city called in the morning and had a conference with the president. He expressed a wish that the public business be transacted as usual, and the members of the cabinet were therefore at their desks most of the day. Such of them as can be spared, will accompany the remains to Indianapolis.

All the members of the immediate families of the president and Mrs. Harrison except the president's brother, John Scott Harrison, of Kansas City, now on his way, are here. Carter Harrison, of Tennessee, and Mrs. Harrison's only brother, John Scott, of Port Townsend, Wash., who left there yesterday, will probably not come to Washington, but go direct to Indianapolis. This morning Mrs. Harrison's remains were embalmed. They probably will lie in the room in which she died until the private services are held Thursday.

The president is averse to having the White House flag displayed at half-mast, so it was not placed on the staff this morning as usual. Flags on the public buildings are at half-mast. A plain black crape knot on the White House door is the only outward symbol of mourning.

Though no selection of body-bearers has been made, probably the corpse will be borne by the White House employees. About 1 o'clock Russell Harrison, McKee and Hallford visited the establishment of Undertaker Spence, and selected the casket. They decided upon one made of Spanish red cedar, covered with fine black broadcloth. It has a copper metallic inner case, hermetically sealed, lined with crown tufted satin. The exterior has no ornamentation whatever, except oxidized bar handles, which run full length and a solid silver oxidized plate, bearing this inscription:

CAROLINE SCOTT HARRISON,
Wife of Benjamin Harrison,
Died October 25, 1892.

FUNERAL SERVICES NEXT THURSDAY.

The guard around the executive mansion to keep out intruders will be continued today. It is found impracticable to hold the funeral services Wednesday, so it is decided to postpone them till Thursday morning. They will be in no sense public, admission to them being limited strictly to those invited. Only relatives, members of the cabinet and their families and a very few intimate friends will be in attendance. As far as the official position of the president will permit, the services will be the same as in case of a member of a private family. They will be held in the East room, conducted according to the Presbyterian forms by Rev. T. S. Hamlin, pastor of the church which the president attends. The body will not lie in state. After the services will be taken to Indianapolis, where services of a more public character will be held in the first Presbyterian church, and the body interred in Crown Hill cemetery.

WILL ACT AS PALL-BEARERS.

Such members of the cabinet as are in Washington and those who will be able to reach here before Thursday will act as honorary pall-bearers at the funeral. Secretary Tracy, Secretary Noble, Attorney-General Miller and Postmaster-General Wamamaker are now in the city, and with ex-Secretary Proctor had a brief interview with the president in his private chamber this morning. Secretary John W. Foster and Secretary Charles Foster are on their way to Washington, the former from Indiana and the latter from Illinois. They are expected to reach Washington tonight or tomorrow morning. Secretary Rusk probably left Milwaukee last night. Secretary Elkins is in West Virginia, but his exact location is not known. It is believed, however, he will be in Washington by Thursday morning. Chief Justice Fuller will also be an honorary pall-bearer. He came to the White House this morning, and left a card for the president.

PALL-BEARERS AT INDIANAPOLIS.

The pall-bearers who will officiate at Indianapolis are Dr. M. R. Allen, John Belam, Hugh Hanna, E. B. Martindale, General Lew Wallace, of Crawfordville; Hon. William E. Niblock, of Vincennes; John R. Elder, and Theodore P. Haughey. The active pall-bearers in this city will be the attendants of the White House, whose sorrow over the death of Mrs. Harrison is sincere and deep. They have lost a friend who took an active interest in the welfare of each.

EXPRESSIONS OF SYMPATHY.

Among the many telegrams of condolence received, was the following, in addition to those prohibited yesterday:

BALTIMORE CASTLE, Oct. 26.—General Harrison, president of United States, Washington: I have heard with the deepest regret of your sad loss, and sincerely sympathize with you in your grief.

VICTORIA, B. C.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—The federal courts adjourned today out of respect to the memory of Mrs. Harrison.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Mayor Grant ordered the flags at half-mast on the city yesterday, because of the death of Mrs. Harrison.

RESOLUTIONS OF SYMPATHY.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—The stock exchange has passed a resolution of sympathy with President Harrison.

Mrs. Harrison's Remains.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The remains of Mrs. Harrison will be placed in the east room this afternoon, where they will remain till after the funeral services. There will be no recognition of Mrs. Harrison's death, beyond flags at half staff on government buildings. Public business will go on as usual.

The Funeral of Mrs. Harrison.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 26.—Arrangements for the funeral of Mrs. Harrison are practically complete. The burial lot in the cemetery was selected this morning. It is beautifully located near the soldiers' graves. Honorary pall-bearers will be made up of distinguished citizens of Indiana, including General Lew Wallace, Hon. W. P. Fishback, Judge Wm. Woods and Hon. E. B. Martindale. Active pall-bearers will be 10 regular army officers.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Oct. 26.—At a meeting of the cabinet this morning, it was decided that all except Secretary Foster, should go to Indianapolis to attend the funeral of Mrs. Harrison. Vice President Morton will be one of the pall-bearers at services here tomorrow. Among the senders of telegrams of condolence, is Senator Mitchell of Oregon.

International Monetary Conference.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—[Special.] The list of the governments which will take part in the International Monetary Conference, to take place in Brussels, Nov. 22d, will be made public today. As far as is known these countries are: Austria, Hungary, Belgium, Denmark, France, Germany, Great Britain, Greece, Italy, Netherlands, Portugal, Roumania, Russia, Serbia, Spain, Sweden, Norway and Switzerland. The delegates from the United States already designated by the president are as follows. Senators Allison and Jones, Representatives McCreary, of Kentucky, Henry W. Cannon, president of the Chase National bank of New York city and F. A. Walker, president of the Institute of Technology, Boston, Mass. In addition to these it is expected that Mr. Terrell, minister at Brussels, will be made delegate.

W. O. T. Union.

DENVER, Oct. 26.—[Special.]—The great crowds of delegates to the National W. O. T. U. are crowding into the city. Tonight's trains will bring in the Willard party and probably all the officers, and late this evening or tomorrow the first executive session will be held. The national officers who are to participate in this executive session are: Miss Frances E. Willard, Evanston, Ill.; Miss Mary Allen West, Chicago; Miss Margaret A. Suddath, Chicago; Mrs. Harriet R. Kells, Chicago; Mrs. Caroline B. Buell, Chicago; Mrs. Mary A. Woodbridge, Ravenna, O.; Mrs. L. M. N. Stevens, Portland, Me.; Miss Esther Pugh, Chicago. On Sunday lady delegates will occupy all the pulpits of Denver. All the delegates will be here by tomorrow evening.

The War Ship Ammen.

BATH, Mo., Oct. 26.—[Special.]—This was the day set for the launching of the Ammen ram, but the announcement is made today that the contracts for material are still so far behind hand that the launch cannot possibly take place before December. But the naval officers are today making an informal inspection of the work and will probably provide for some few changes. She is intended for harbor defense and as she will be the most formidable instrument of destruction on the seas, her importance can readily be seen. When in fighting trim and at full speed, this ram will be a veritable terror to an invading fleet. Nothing more destructive can be built than her sharp and murderous looking prow. It is made of steel in a single casting and weighs fourteen tons. It was cast at the Norristown Steel Works, Norristown, Pa., and is the heaviest single casting ever put into a vessel's stem. It is established that this prow will pierce the heaviest armor used in modern ships with the ram at three-quarters speed. It will strike below the water line of the vessel attacked, and the government experts are sanguine that one blow will send the biggest war ship that floats to the bottom. With room enough in which to gain headway and maneuver, it is claimed that this ram could cripple an entire fleet of invading ironclads. Resistance could best be offered her by torpedoes, but as the ram will be provided with machine guns to pick off torpedo boats, she will be able to defend herself from attack in that direction. Her sides are protected with powerful armor and a hostile ship would find a hard target to hit squarely, owing to her peculiar shape. The appearance of formidable engine of war is strikingly like that of the whaleback steel barges introduced two years ago and used in the lake and coast carrying trade. She might be called cigar shaped or like a banana, with the curved end turned downward. Her extreme width, 43.5 feet. She will be provided with every improvement that is known in her line and a heavy armament in addition to her ram will render her a most formidable antagonist for hostile vessels.

The St. Louis Wheat Market.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 16.—Enormous loads of wheat continue to weigh this market down like a millstone, and the result is that prices yesterday, for both cash and future, reached lower prices than ever before in the history of St. Louis as a grain market. No. 2 read, cash selling on charge at 66 1/2 cents per bushel, while favorite speculative option, December, dropped to 70 1/2. This breaks all previous records, but is not believed to be the bottom, should enormous receipts at this and primary markets continue. There appears to be no let up to the flow of wheat from farmers' hands, which has been going on for weeks. Stocks are said to be enormous everywhere, and constantly increasing at a rate truly astonishing. Local stocks are the largest on record, and yesterday aggregated 6,238,749 bushels, compared with 2,961,800 bushels the same time last year, when yield was one of the largest ever raised in this country.

Senator David B. Hill Will Speak.

LYNCHBURG, Va., Oct. 26.—[Special.]—Of the Southern states, which have always shown a peculiar and striking liking for Senator David Hill, of New York, Virginia easily leads, and it is on this account that the ex-governor and ex-candidate for the Democratic nomination for president chose this state as the only commonwealth outside of New York in which to air his views. He is to speak here today, and the preparations that have been making for the event are on a rather stupendous scale. Special trains with marching clubs are coming from all parts of the state, and are to participate in a great parade, which will precede the speech. All the prominent Democratic statesmen of Virginia are here or expected, and the event is perhaps the greatest known to the campaign history of this city if not to the state. Senator Hill has announced that his discussion of the campaign topics today would center largely about the force bill issue.

Senator Edmunds Will Speak.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—[Special.]—Ex-Senator Edmunds, of Vermont, is expected home this morning from an extended tour of Europe. He will probably enter into the campaign at once, making speeches in New England, and probably to New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

Rally of Republicans in Pittsburgh.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 26.—[Special.]—The Republican clubs of this city will be out in full force today headed by the famous American club, to give Thomas B. Reed a fitting and a memorable reception. He will speak here this evening and the hall will probably be unable to contain the immense throng. Among others at the meeting will be Chris. L. Magee, who will in all likelihood preside over the gathering.

Arrested for Libel.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 26.—A. S. Mercer, world's fair commissioner, from Wyoming, was taken on bail this morning, being unable to furnish $5,000 to criminal libel suit brought against him, Monday, for publications in his paper, growing out of the cattle troubles, in Wyoming last spring.

Will Not Support Weaver.

OMAHA, Oct. 26.—It is now stated that there is no foundation for the report that the Democrats of this state have decided to support Weaver electors.

Pronounced Asiatic Cholera.

JERSEY CITY, Oct. 26.—Wm. Bouner, carpenter by trade, died early this morning of what two physicians pronounced genuine Asiatic cholera. An analysis of the excreta will be made.

FOREIGN NEWS.

The Luther Memorial Church.

BERLIN, Oct. 26.—The grand feature of the reconstruction of the Luther Memorial church at Wittenberg, which takes place October 31, will be a procession into the church through the door to which Luther nailed his celebrated thesis against the doctrine of indulgence. This procession will comprise Emperor William and other sovereign princes of Germany, and it promises to be a spectacle of great splendor. Trumpeters will play "Ein feste burg." After services in the church the members of the royal family will go to the house in which Luther lived and inscribed their names in the visitors' album. The supreme protestant council of Prussia has ordered memorial sermons to be preached in all the pulpits within its jurisdiction Sunday next. A greater part of restoring the church was borne by Emperor William. At the reconstruction ceremonies will be representatives of all foreign protestant sovereigns, who will take part in the grand procession. The duke of York, presumptive heir to the throne of Great Britain, will represent Queen Victoria.

After Jerry's Scalp.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 26.—The Star's Wichita special says: "Jerry Simpson has been warned of conspiracy to kill him, and henceforth till the end of the campaign, he will be accompanied by body guards."

Intent on Fraudulent Voting.

DETROIT, Oct. 26.—The registration boards began a session today. Frauds are already reported. Best of the Republican committee, says the committee has the names of over 300, intent on fraudulent voting.

Weather in Scotland.

EDINBURGH, Oct. 26.—Intensely cold weather prevails. Scotland looks in Perthshire, are covered with thick ice. Snow lies deep on the mountains.

The Cholera at Vienna.

VIENNA, Oct. 16.—It is reported that all traffic here on the Danube will be at once stopped on account of the breaking out of the cholera in the outskirts of the city. The origin of the disease is attributed to a steamer coming from Budapest.

Bullion for Russia.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The Rothschilds have secured 1,500,000 worth of bullion for Russia, without applying to the Bank of England. A strong demand for gold still exists.

Queen Victoria Going to Italy.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—Queen Victoria will spend the winter in Italy, at Bientina, 11 miles east of Pisa.

NORTHWEST NEWS.

We copy the following from the Des Moines Iowa, Daily Register: Rev. John Henry Douglas and wife will leave soon for a sojourn of some time at Newberg, Oregon, where he goes as evangelist superintendent of the Friends' church. Their long residence in this city has made many friends, and he is recognized as one of the ablest of modern bible teachers and evangelists. He will give his farewell sermon at the Des Moines Friends' church Sabbath morning, the 28th inst.

The Studebaker Wagon Company, of South Bend, Ind., has negotiated for the shipment of 2,000,000 feet of spruce lumber from South Bend, Wash., as soon as the railroad connections are made. The freight will be about $11 per ton. The spruce will be used for wagon-beds. Eastern spruce is worth from $22 to $24 per M. and poor quality at best.

Senator Mitchell, while at Pendleton, was visited by three chiefs of the Umatillas, who expressed a desire that their people be allowed to lease their lands for a term of three or four years, until they could get money enough to buy horses and plows and improved agricultural machinery, and had learned how to farm. The senator assured them that he would represent their interests at Washington. The Umatilla Indians will have a vote next year.

Tobacco with leaves 33 inches long and 17 inches wide has grown this year in Grant county along the John Day river. It was not intended for curing, but for manufacturing sheep dip. If the practice becomes general with sheep-owners, they will save themselves and the country thousands of dollars.

The next State Bankers' Association of the state of Washington will take steps to prevent bank robbery. The robbery of the Roslyn bank a few weeks ago doubtless suggested this action.

Artesian wells are still going down in the Moxee valley in Yakima county. The last to be begun is now down a distance of 300 feet, and indications are favorable for a supply of flowing water before long.

R. G. Savery, special agent of the general land office for Oregon, tells the Klamath Falls Express that the government will undoubtedly set aside the summit of the Cascade range in Oregon as a national park. This will include Mount Hood, Mount Jefferson, Mount Pitt and other points of interest.

How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy.

NEVER BECOME DISAPPOINTED. As a general family remedy for dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., it hardly ever fails to give relief. It is a perfect cure for all diseases of the Stomach and Bowels.

Wonderful Results

the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Several of our friends, upon which other preparations have been powerless, yield to the peculiar curative powers of this medicine. Distressing cases of dyspepsia, excruciating complaints of the kidneys and liver, agonizing itches, eruptions of the skin, rheumatism, dropsy, and all other ailments of catarrh, and aches and pains of rheumatism, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. It purifies the blood, and at the same time tones the stomach, creates an appetite, and gives strength to every function of the body. Give it a trial.

General Debility

For four years my wife suffered with large tumor bunches on the glands under the arms, and general debility of the whole system. She became so poor in health that we were on the verge of despair regarding her recovery. Physicians did not seem to understand her case; at all events she never derived much benefit from their treatment. She finally concluded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. The immediate effect was so marked and satisfactory that she continued to take it, and this is the result: She has gained in weight and is stronger and in better health than she has been for years. The tumor bunches under her arms have diminished, and we believe Hood's Sarsaparilla will be too much for them in time. J. I. NICHOLS, 226 Commercial Street, Boston, Mass.

From 84 to 111 Pounds

ROMANCE IN A HOSPITAL.

The Bride on Crutches and the Groom Waiting with a Cane.

Some matches are made in heaven. One has been made in the Cook county hospital. A man with a sprained ankle met a young woman who had been crippled by inflammatory rheumatism, and they felt sorry for each other. The result was a wedding yesterday afternoon, and a very happy wedding it seemed to be.

Charles Chouquette is a sturdy Frenchman who has a good job as foreman of the delivery wagons of Reid, Myrick & Co. He has been with the company about ten years. Last month when he sprained his ankle he was taken to ward 11 in the Cook county hospital and there he remained for several weeks. Miss Arabella Root de l'Armitage, who is interested in charitable work, called often at the surgical ward to distribute flowers or lead in singing hymns.

Many of the patients, including Chouquette, were not able to attend the concert for convalescents and they enjoyed those visits. Chouquette became known to the visitor, who about the same time was deeply interested in the case of May Hayes, a pretty convalescent and an orphan girl. The girl had been at the hospital several months suffering from rheumatism. The surgeons had performed an operation on her knee, and she was crippled for all time, but she managed to get about on crutches or a cane. Her ward was No. 7, but she went with Mme. de l'Armitage to ward 11 to help sing the hymns, and there she met Chouquette, the Frenchman, who was propped up on his pillows waiting for his ankle to get well. Between verses they sympathized with each other.

May was obliged to leave the hospital to make room for some one else. The surgeon said she could not be helped any further. Then Mme. de l'Armitage, who is trying to find a home for convalescents, came to The News-Record and told of May's case and asked if any one would care for the orphan girl for a short time. Within a few days a lady on the south side offered to give May a home until she could find some light employment such as sewing. Within a day or two after May went to her home on Thirtieth street a friend of the family came to make a visit. It was Chouquette, still hobbling about with his tender ankle.

After that there were many surprises. The crippled girl and the lame man were surprised to meet. The lady of the house was surprised to find that they knew each other. May was surprised to hear that Charles had fallen love with her. Mme. de l'Armitage was surprised last evening when she visited the home and witnessed the marriage of her protégée and the man from ward 11. The pastor, the Rev. W. F. Black, was more surprised than any one when called upon to unite a man with a cane and a girl with crutches. It was a pretty wedding with flowers, and the kind-hearted woman who cared for the orphan girl has left her best rooms to the bride and groom.—Chicago News-Record.

A Piece of Good Advice.

A piece of practical advice which girl students away, perhaps, from home care for the first time, will do well to heed, is the counsel to be prudent and regular as to meals and exercise. Much has been written from time to time about the importance of having a proper mid-day repast, and the folly of women who habitually perform a long day's work on insufficient nourishment, and it is to be hoped that few are unwise enough to deliberately risk the undermining of their constitution by disregarding medical advice and authority on this point. The other requisite to good health—namely, adequate exercise and recreation—is no less important.

The close application and the mental exertion entailed in art work demands daily relaxation, and if possible outdoor sports, or at least plenty of walking, but preferably with some object in view and with a companion, for a solitary constitutional is with most of us a poor antidote to nervous fatigue. Some kind of recreation which takes the thoughts entirely away from one's work—giving change of occupation to the mind as well as to the body—is recommended by all doctors in giving advice for a healthy life of home.—Maude Haywood in Ladies' Home Journal.

Summer Travel.

The extremely humid weather made the summer of
